

1. What have certifications do for you ?

For more than 15 years in helping our customers achieved their Quality, Environment, Health and Safety Management System Certifications, we found that though these achievements does fulfill your customers' basic requirements, they do not really help in your bottomlines. And in many cases, if not managed well, add burden to your bottomlines.

2. A step closer to World Class

During our last 4 years of consultancy services, we have developed a proven strategy that will take our customers 1 step closer to a World Class Manufacturer. And therefore would really like to share with you.

3. Strategy to share

This strategy aimed at helping our customers embark on a hands-on, practical and fully guided improvement process. Effect and impact can be seen almost immediate, wholesome and long lasting. Tools are simple but the guidance and approaches are different. It's complete and participation oriented.

4. Health Check

Trust us that what we see is kept between your company QIS. We can sign a Non-disclosure agreement with you if needed. Share with us your operating costs. By analyzing your cost contributors, we will then customized a strategy focusing at reducing your costs through a series of training -implementation led improvement processes - achieving operational excellence as we move forward.

5. Organizational Culture

We review and advise your organizational culture which shall include your management style, senior and middle management's style. Which may means that your culture may need a little shifting.

6. Leadership and Teamwork

We talk to your senior and middle management, assess their leadership style, commitment and strengths. You have a team, however is your team working to achieve the synergy that it is suppose to. Is your team working together to achieve all those objectives that you always wanted to achieved. Is your team effective ?

7. Competency

While individuals in your organization is very competent in their arena, however, what about soft skills such as leadership, team work, problem solving, cost reduction techniques ?

What we do is to equip your team with some of the most basic, simple to use tools that will help them and definitely help you to achieve a lot more. We elevate the general management competency of your management team.

8. Suite of Improvement Initiatives

The recipe of tools and initiatives we put together specially for you will depends on the Health Check we conducted. This is to ensure that our initiatives have an immediate impact to you.

Throughout the process, we emphasize on team building and team work. We build a team that will maintain what we set out to achieve, sustain and reach greater heights thereafter independently.

